

WARNS GERMANY OF REVOLUTION

Socialist Deputy Provokes
Commotion in Prussian Diet by Denunciation.

The Hague, Holland, March 17.—The Koelnische Zeitung's account of the turbulent debate in the Prussian diet Thursday adds some details to the speech of the Socialist leader, Adolf Hoffman, for which he was voted into silence. The paper says that Hoffman, amid noisy interruptions, accused highly placed functionaries of cornering food while the poorer classes of north Germany were falling ready victims to smallpox on account of the enfeebled vitality. He warned Germany to beware what had happened in Russia.

The Socialist deputy went on to declare that Germany was incurring the execution of the world by a policy of senseless provocation.

Excoriated National Policies.

The tumult increased when he denounced any idea of annexation as senseless and criminal, and the climax was reached when he attacked submarine warfare as a crime against international law. At this point he was shouted down and the house voted that he be no longer heard.

The Reinsche Westfälische Zeitung publishes the following excerpt from the speech of deputy Hoffman: "We shall refuse to vote for the budget. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg is merely the fig leaf of military absolutism. Military rule is the responsibility for the bloodshed in Europe and only when militarism and despotism are removed will the people breathe freely."

"The revolution in Russia should be a warning to our rulers. The German submarine warfare is opposed to the laws of humanity and international law."

This assertion provoked commotion in the diet, and when the house voted not to hear him the Socialist deputy left the tribune shouting excitedly.

RUSSIANS WILL ELECT A RULER

Grand Duke Michael Accepts the Throne If He Is Elected to It.

term and until the convocation of a constitutional assembly, powers will slowly pass into the hands of the new cabinet which will then present the monarch of a new government without a supreme head.

A Republic Is Likely.
The difficulties which threatened yesterday to create a serious split between the duma committee of workmen, soldiers and deputies, have automatically disappeared since, with the abdication of grand duke Michael as regent, the question whether Russia should remain an empire or compel its antiquated government to yield to a new republic, is now solved.

Intrigues and Scandals Ended.
As early as two months ago rumors became current that the emperor would be forced to surrender his throne. Until that time the chief dissatisfaction at the economic disorganization of the country and the criminal mismanagement of affairs was vented against the cabinet and the influence of the court was only vaguely alluded to, without touching the person of the emperor. It became definitely known finally that all irresponsible and evil influences, symbolized by such figures as Sturmer, Protogoff and Rasputin, had a deeper and more powerful source than the government itself. The prevalence of startling rumors of court scandals and intrigues and that the existence of various channels, which seemed to run from court circles into the camp of the enemy, contributed to bring the imperial family into complete disfavor. It was recalled that empress Alexandra, who dominated the emperor, was herself a German princess.

Himself Unfit to Govern.
It was felt that the weakness of the ruling family in allowing persons to direct the affairs of the country who were secretly signing away the best interests of the nation and apparently doing all possible to interfere with the proper conduct of the war, unfitted them to govern the country.

Accusations Against Emperor.
Accusations were made against the emperor in almost every gathering where people privately assembled to discuss the political situation. From the tribune of the duma the same thing was blurted in veiled form. Prof. Milukoff, in his address at the opening of the duma last November, read an article from a German paper which spoke of a group of mysterious persons who were gathered around the young emperor. He used this article as the basis for an attack on the "dark forces," which reflected the pro-German influence at court.

What Will Men at Front Do.
The reception of the new manifesto at army headquarters is awaited with the greatest anxiety, for it is known that unless it is favorably met by the 6,000,000 men at the front the new regime cannot endure. There is no reason to suppose that the soldiers on the fighting line will show a different attitude from the soldiers and civilians in Petrograd and other cities, except insofar as their remoteness from the scene of the revolution and partial ignorance of the conditions which brought it about may affect them. But since upon their acceptance hinges the fate of the new republic their answer is being breathlessly anticipated. With them rests the decision as to whether Russia shall build up a new government on a prepared foundation or be plunged into further disorder.

Manifesto of Abdication.
The following is the text of the imperial manifesto in which the Russian emperor announced his abdication and that of his son:
"We, Nicholas II, by the grace of God, emperor of all the Russians, czar of Poland and grand duke of Finland,

CAZAR OF RUSSIA LEAVES THRONE

Declares It Is God's Will and He Bows With Grace.

... make known to all our faithful subjects, in the day of the great struggle against a foreign foe who has been striving for three years to enslave our country, God has wished to send it Russia a new and painful trial.

"Interior troubles threaten to have a fatal repercussion on the final outcome of the war. The destinies of Russia and the honor of our heroic army, the happiness of the people and all the future of our dear fatherland require that the war be prosecuted at all cost to a victorious end. The cruel enemy is making his last effort and the moment is near when our valiant army, in concert with those of our glorious allies, will definitely chastise the foe."

Hands Scepter to Michael.
"In these decisive days in the life of Russia, we believe our people should have the closest union and organization of all their forces for the realization of speedy victory. For this reason, in accord with the duma of the empire, we have considered it desirable to abdicate the throne of Russia and lay aside our supreme power."

"Not wishing to be separated from our loved son, we leave our heritage to our brother, the grand duke Michael Alexandrovich, blessing his advent to the throne of Russia. We hand over the government to our brother in full union with the representatives of the nation who are seated in the legislative chambers, taking this step with an inviolable oath in the name of our well beloved country. We call on all faithful sons of the fatherland to fulfill their sacred patriotic duty in this painful moment of national trial and to aid our brother and the representatives of the nation in bringing Russia into the path of prosperity and glory. May God aid Russia."

Old Officials Under Arrest.
Former premiers Goltzine and Goremykin have been placed in the fortress of St. Paul and St. Peter, says a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd, as have Gen. Soukhomlinoff and Belliaff, former ministers of war; A. B. Protogoff, former minister of the interior; J. G. Chichegiovitch and M. Makaroff, former ministers of justice; M. Malakoff and Gen. Kucheloff, former chief of police. Other prominent persons under arrest are being detained temporarily in the duma building.

It is announced that there will be no further trials for political offenses and that the government has opened the bar to Jewish lawyers, who have been excluded heretofore.

GOVERNOR OF FINLAND IS SEIZED; OTHERS ALSO HELD

London, Eng., March 17.—Maj. Gen. Zein, governor general of Finland, has been arrested by the commander of the Baltic fleet on the order of the provisional government, according to a Reuter Petrograd dispatch. Senator Borovitinoff, vice president of the economic department of the Finnish senate, has also been arrested. F. I. Rodicheff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats in the duma, has been appointed minister for Finland and directed to proceed at once to Helsinki.

Gov. Zein has been governor of Finland since November, 1905, and has been noted for the drastic methods he used to suppress any popular outbreak.

RUSSIAN SVEABORG GARRISON REFUSES TO JOIN REVOLT

London, Eng., March 17.—The Russian garrison at the fortress at Sveaborg, which defied the Heligolanders, refused to join the revolution, according to a dispatch received by the Swedish newspaper Nyheter, and forwarded here by the Stockholm correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company. The Russian soldiers, the dispatch adds, mutinied and the fortress has been declared in a state of siege.

The charge against the army officer is in connection with the death of Pvt. Robert Sutton, who was killed in an automobile accident Thursday night in the 2500 block on Bliss street. Sutton was riding in a machine which collided with another.
